WORKING TRANSCRIPT for Clip 1: Peter's Introduction (1:43)

Interviewer (Int): Can you tell us your name, please?

Peter Feigl (PF): My name is Peter Feigl, F-E-I-G-L.

Int: And what was your name at birth?

PF: At birth, my name was Klaus Peter Feigl.

Int: Can you spell that for us?

PF: That's K-L-A-U-S, Peter, and last name Feigl, F as in Frank, E-I-G-L.

Int: What was the date of your birth?

PF: I was born on the first of March 1929 in Berlin, Germany.

Int: And how old are you now?

PF: At the present time I am 68.

Int: What was the name of your father?

PF: My father's name was Ernst, E-R-N-S-T Feigl.

Int: And your mother?

PF: My mother's name was Agnes, A-G-N-E-S Feigl and her maiden name was Bornstein, B-O-R-N-S-T-E-I-N.

Int: Did you have any brothers or sisters?

PF: No, I was an only child.

Int: How was that for you, being an only child?

PF: Well, uh, I couldn't compare it with a family where I would have had siblings since I was the only one, but in subsequent years, especially during the war experience, I considered it somewhat of an advantage because I only had to think of Number 1, myself, and in many a situation it probably saved my life.
